Numb. 248.

THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

THURSDAY NOVEMBER 2, 1738.

[No Gazette has been publiſhed Oct. 26. by reaſon of Sickneſs, which has hindred it.]

LONDON, Aug. 22.

ON Tueſday laſt Coll. Samuel Horſey, late Governor of the York Buildings Company, and who was lately appointed Governor of Carolina, as he was delivering a Meſſage to his Servant was taken Speechleſs, and continued ſo till laſt Saturday Morning, and expired about Four o'Clock at his Houſe at Whitehall.

Madrid, July 26. The 21ſt Inſt. the Court ſent away a Courier to London, whither Mr. Keene, the Britiſh Miniſter diſpatched another the ſame Day. We are aſſured that theſe Diſpatches tend to ſeek out new Methods for terminating in an amicable Manner the Difference between England and this Court. As thoſe Expedients may be as fruitleſs as a great many that have been already tried, the Court is making the neceſſary Diſpoſitions for putting the Nation in a good Condition of Defence. The Infant, Don Philip, High Admiral of Spain, has ſent Orders to the Intendants of Catalonia and Biſcay, to give Notice to the Privateers of thoſe two Provinces, that if Matters come to a Rupture between the two Crowns, they ſhall receive Paſs-ports and Commiſſions from that Prince, in order to cruize upon the Engliſh Veſſels in the Mediterranean.

LONDON, Aug. 16.

On Saturday the Gangs of his Majeſty's Men of War, the Princeſs Louiſa, St. Albans, and Advice, were order'd to break up their Rendezvous, and repair to their reſpective Ships directly.

The Preſs ſtill continues very brisk; and the Order for breaking up the Rendezvous of the three Ships above-mentioned is on Account of their having got their Complement of Men, and being deſign'd for immediate Service.

The ſeeming Slackneſs of the Government in their Preparations for War, which has given Riſe to the general Rumour for Peace, may perhaps be but a Feint; for on Saturday there was a hotter Preſs by Water, and more Men of Wars Boats with their Gangs above Bridge, almoſt to double the Number, than has been at any one Time ſince the Warrants were granted. Abundance who had lain by ſince the Preſſing began, too credulous of the Report that all was over, had ventur'd upon the Water and were ſnapp'd up.

There are certain Advices from Madrid, that the King of Spain is relaps'd into his former Melancholy, out of which neither the willing Queen, nor the Muſick of Farinelli, can recover him. It's ſaid, that the Queen attributing the Cauſe of his Catholick Majeſty's Indiſpoſition to the vigorous Reſolutions of the Britiſh Parliament, and the Arrival of Admiral Haddock's Squadron on the Coaſts of Spain, rails violently at both, and is angry at her own Credulity, having been inform'd that Great-Britain was more polite than to rudely do herſelf Juſtice.—This cook'd up Paragraph muſt make our Readers laugh.

His Majeſty's Ship the Princeſs of Orange having taken in her Guns, Stores, &c. is ſailed to the Downs, in order to join the reſt of the Men of War.

The Bonetta Man of War, and a Tender, having been ordered to Falmouth, they arrived arrived there on Saturday laſt, and impreſs'd a great Number of Men for his Majeſty's Service.

Madeira, July 12. Two Ships of War, the Hector, Sir Yelverton Peyton, and the Blandford, Capt. Burriſh, and five Tranſports with Forces on board, under the Command of General Oglethorpe, for Georgia, are ſafely arrived here. The Men of War ſaluted, and received an equal Number of Guns. The Governor ſent the Captain of his Guard on board to invite the General on Shore, who made the Governor a Viſit Yeſterday. His Excellency the Governor ſent the Lieutenant-General of the Iſland, who is a Knight of the King of Portugal's Order, to wait upon him on his landing, and conduct him to his Audience; and alſo ordered a Captain's Guard, with Colours, to mount upon the General's Quarter. When he waited upon the Governor, a Guard of 60 Men was drawn up at the Gate of the Governor's Houſe; they ſaluted the General as he paſſed with their Half-Pikes and Colours, as alſo with the Cannon from the Battery; the Governor received him at the Head of the Stairs, and conducted him thro' a handſome Apartment into a very large Audience-Room. The General deſired the Guard to be excuſed the Trouble of mounting, ſince he could not lie on Shore, becauſe thoſe under his Charge were on Board. The Britiſh Conſul, Richard Baker, entertained the General and the Captains of the Men of War, in a very elegant Manner, this Day at Dinner, after they had heard the Sermon in his Chappel; and they are to hunt with the Governor To-morrow.

CHARLES-TOWN, Oct. 26.

By Capt. Warden from Antigua, we hear that on the 18th of Aug. there was a violent Storm of Wind at Antigua, ſeveral Houſes were blown down, abundance of Canes lodg'd, one Ship with 400 Hogſheads of Sugar was entirely loſt at the Harbour's Mouth. A Sloop from Mountſerrat came up and brought a moſt melancholly Account of that Iſland, there being but few Houſes ſtanding in the Town, near Thirty Mills were blown down, the Ships that were in the Road put to Sea, and when the Sloop came away but one was return'd, which had her Ground Tear waſh'd out. and ſeveral Wrecks have been ſeen among the Leward-Iſlands.

CHARLES-TOWN, Nov. 2

The repeated Advices that we have received of the Deſigns of Spain againſt this Province, and the Certainty of the Accounts of the great Armament that was making laſt Year at the Havannah, and which we are aſſured is ſtill continued there, determined ſeveral Gentlemen of Worth and Diſtinction in Charleſtown to accept Commiſſions in the Militia, and to make themſelves Maſters in the beſt Manner they could of the Military Diſcipline, that they might be the better enabled to act vigorouſly in Defence of the Province, and to repell the Attacks of any invading Power. To this End his Honour the Preſident has been pleaſed to form the Town Militia, which about 6 Years conſiſted only of two Companies, and ſince of Four, into the firſt Regiment of this Province, of which the Hon. JOHN PENWICK Eſq; one of the Members of his Majeſty's Council is Colonel. The Hon. JOHN BRAITHWAITE Eſq; alſo one of his Majeſty's Council is Lieutenant Colonel. The Hon. CHARLES PINCKNEY Eſq; Speaker of the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly is Major.

This Regiment is divided into Six Companies of which the following Gentlemen are Officers.

Firſt Company Capt. Benjamin Whitaker, Lieutenant Maurice Lewis, Enſign Rich: Hill, Mr John Guerard Clerk. Second Company Capt. Oth: Beale, Lieutenant James Graeme, Enſign Geo: Auſtin, Mr Hen. Peronneau Clerk. Third Company Capt. Wm. Pinckney, Lieutenant Sam. Eveleigh, Enſign Jordan Roche, Mr John Burford Clerk. Fourth Company Capt Robt Auſtin, Lieutenant Benj. Savage, Enſign Ebenezer Simmons, Mr John Wragg Clerk. Fifth Company Capt Th: Cooper, Lieutenant Iſ: Holmes, Enſign Richd Lambton, Mr Alex. Peronneau Clerk. Sixth Company Capt. Garret Vanvelſen, Lieutenant John Ballantine, Enſign Moreau Sarazin, and Mr John Ballantine jun Clerk. Mr. Robt Pringle is Adjutant and Mr. John Rutledge Surgeon to the Regiment. The Regiment conſiſts of 600 Men, excluſive of Officers, and Monday laſt, being his Majeſty's Birth Day, appeared for the firſt Time under Arms, and made a very gallant and genteel Appearance. The Companies firſt drew up on the Bay, and then marched in order to the general Parade near Broughton's Battery; and, in order to give the Men a better Notion and Inſight into the Exerciſe, the Officers drew out and form'd a diſtinct Company, and went thro' the manual Exerciſe and the Facings with great Exactneſs and general Approbation; the Words of Command being given by the Major, the Captains then exerciſed their ſeveral diſtinct Companies, and after which, on the Word of Command they form'd the Battalion, perform'd ſome part of the Exerciſe and were review'd by his Honour the Preſident, who expreſs'd great Satisfaction at the handſome Appearance of the Officers being all dreſs'd in Scarlet in Regimental Uniformity, and the great Progreſs they have made in ſo ſhort a time as 6 Weeks. The Preſident did the Officers the Honour to invite them into the Fort, where under a Diſcharge of the Cannon, his Majeſty's Health with thoſe of the Royal Family was drank as likewiſe was done without the Fort by the whole Battalion under Arms, Wine being provided by his Honour the Preſident's Direction for that Purpoſe. The Commiſſions of the ſeveral Officers of the Regiment were publiſhed, as were alſo thoſe of Andr Rutledge Eſq; Adjutant General } And Peter Taylor and Iſ: Mazyck Eſqrs. Aids de Camp. The Battalions in Four grand Diviſions, each divided into Three Sub diviſions, then march'd into Town where after lodging the Colours they were diſmiſt. And the ſeveral Officers with many Gentlemen of Diſtinction they had invited on that Occaſion repaired to the new Court-room, where an elegant Dinner was prepared by the Officers. The Day was concluded with great Demonſtrations of Pleaſure and Satisfaction, and the Town in the Evening was handſomely illuminated. As this is a Turn in our Military Affairs, which has been long wiſh'd for by all conſiderate Men, and as the better Diſcipline and well regulating the Militia is ſo neceſſary to our Defence and Security againſt the Attempts of our Enemies, I could not omit giving my Readers this Account of it, and from whence 'tis hoped an Emulation will ariſe among the Gentlemen of the beſt Fortunes and Abilities in the Country to accept of Commiſſions in the Militia, and to follow the laudable Example that the Gentlemen of Charleſtown have ſett them on this Occaſion.

And whereas the said James Crokatt has now left off all Trade on his own Account, such Gentlemen, &c. as formerly used to deal with him, may now be supplied with the same kinds of Goods he used to deal in, and also many other kinds too tedious to mention, on the same Terms of Credit and taking Produce in Payment by

THIS is to desire all Persons that have any Demands on the Estate of Stephen Leaveft deceased, either by Bill, Bond, Mortgage or Book Debt, to bring them to John Brewton one of the Executors of said Estate, with proper Proof of the same, that Measures may be taken to pay off the same, and I desire all indebted to the said Deceased, to pay the same without further Trouble.

HAIL, Carolina, hail! Fill up the Bowl
With sprightly Juice, fit Emblem of my Soul
Which overflows with Rapture; haste, employ
The loud mouth'd Cannon to express my Joy
Too big for other Utterance; while I drown
Each Care in Health to Friends at Charlestown.
For your dear Sakes, I quit my Native Coast,
Spite of the witching Pleasures it can boast;
And for your Sakes I've venture'd once again
Thro' Winds and Waves to plough the dang'rous Main;
Neptune with all his Terrors could not move
My constant Purpose from this Task of Love.
Happy! If you approve the bold Design
Of gaining your Regard by shewing mine:
Nor need I, from past Favours, fear Success;
I've found you generous, and I hope no less.
Ladies, for you I've ta'en the nicest Care;
To me 'tis Ecstasy to serve the Fair:
To please your Tastes and Judgments, I have brought
A Ship, from Europe and from India fraught
With all Varieties to suit the Gay,
The Grave, all Seasons, either Church or Play.
Nor blame me, Gentlemen, if I pursue
The gallant Maxim which I learnt from you.
The Fair preferr'd, pray be so good to know
I've not forgot the Planter or the Beau:
You'll find Assortment of well-chosen Goods
Fit in the City, or the Pine Tree Woods;
At least I've done my best, and hope to find
Before we part you'll all be of my Mind.
Come see for Love, or buy if you see need;
You're welcome any Way to Your's

JAMES REID.

Have Mercy Criticks! For I am no Poet;
I've Goods to sell, and wish you all should know it;
Nor think I court my Friends just for their Shilling
I'd serve them were I able as I'm willing:
And since I must my Wares and Sense expose,
Why mayn't I do't in Verse as well as Prose?

I'M no Poet or Critick, yet this I can tell
Truth's not always said when Goods are to sell,

Poets and Travellers rarely fail
To make the most of every Tale;
They'll tell you Wonders of your self,
Purely to catch a little Pelf—
The Quack, when mounted on the Stage,
Declares the Good he's done the Age,
And that his virtuous honest Mind
Is only bent to serve Mankind:
Tho' it's well known to every Booby,
To get more Cash is all his Study.

Just so our Skipper now arriv'd,
Who has so many Storms surviv'd
With other's Goods a full fraight Ship
And paid for making every Trip,
Declares he comes here for your Sake,
Without the Thoughts of Pence to make;
Yet still there's something seems in view,
For that you're Generous he proves true.
If my Opinion is not wrong
He comes for better than a Song,
His Pay and Items are not lost
While he makes Verses on our Coast;
In selling Goods his Time's here past
Tho' paid for being aboft the Mast;
He pays no Taxes, Scott or Lott
He keeps no House, he bails no Pott.

So great Men have 'ere now come to this Main
Who oft declar'd they fought on private Gain,
Yet in the End, it has prov'd to our Cost
They wanted Money, or a good fat Post.
I think our Captain has the same in view
If not, he's strangely chang'd since last

ADIEU.
